

A legacy is a donation left to a charity in your Will. It is a lasting gift, so the causes you feel passionate about in life can continue long into the future.

Leaving a gift (legacy ) to JBCS is a meaningful way to ensure that others can access the very best bereavement counselling and support. Legacies also provide JBCS with a crucial source of income, so as to ensure this vital service and support is sustainable.

How to leave a legacy?

It's easy to include Legacy in your Will, but you should always consult a professional, such as a solicitor or financial adviser, to be sure your Will reflects your exact intentions and you understand tax implications. Your adviser will need only our charity name, address and registered charity number.
